

Training

"What is planted in each person's soul will sprout".

Rumi

Our service and trainers have extensive experience and qualifications in their fields. We only concentrate our training on those areas in which we have substantial experience, practice and knowledge. This ensures that any training delivered is based on current theory, research and practice. We provide both set packages and bespoke training. Clearly the needs of the audience, be they therapists, educators, foster carers, social workers, police or multi-disciplinary vary enormously on any given topic.

Our training includes;
