

The Snug

"Metaphors have a way of holding the most truth in the least space"

Orson Scott Card

The Snug is our most complex and demanding room, despite its name. It requires an ability to self-regulate, introspect, play or think in the metaphor. This is a Jungian and Integrative Sandplay room that is helpful for children and young people who can regulate and have a manageable window of tolerance as well as therapeutic parenting, adult therapy, clinical supervision and consultation.

"You are mistaken if you think we have to lower ourselves to communicate with children. On the contrary, we have to reach up to their feelings, stretch, stand on our tiptoes."

Janusz Korczak
1925

"You are mistaken if you think we have to lower ourselves to communicate with children. On the contrary, we have to reach up to their feelings, stretch, stand on our tiptoes."

Janusz Korczak
1925

"You are mistaken if you think we have to lower ourselves to communicate with children. On the contrary, we have to reach up to their feelings, stretch, stand on our tiptoes."

Janusz Korczak
1925

"You are mistaken if you think we have to lower ourselves to communicate with children. On the contrary, we have to reach up to their feelings, stretch, stand on our tiptoes."

Janusz Korczak
1925

